

The New York Times

OFF THE MENU

The Llama San Team Expands Nikkei Cooking at Papa San

Gui Steakhouse serves chops and Sichuan sides, Le Petit Village brings more French to the West Village and more news.

Opening

Le Petit Village

This plant-filled, brick-walled taste of France on a notable West Village triangle is a collaboration between the New York Jets star C.J. Mosley and his business partner, Brandon Wassel, with Mathias Van Leyden and Mino Habib, the owners of Loulou Petit Bistro & Speakeasy in Chelsea. Expect escargots, onion soup, salade lyonnaise and steak au poivre. The executive chef Mehjabin Ahmed, a veteran of Eleven Madison Park and Le Coucou in New York and Bistro Paul Bert in Paris, is in charge. For drinks, Jeremy Le Blanche can suggest a mix bourbon, ratafia, salted caramel Campari, meringue and dehydrated roses in your cocktail glass. (Opens Thursday)

173 Seventh Avenue South (Perry Street), 646-558-3200, lepetitvillagenyc.com.